Polarion Software Announces New Technology Partnership with QMetry

Polarion Strategic Partnership Leverages the Complementary Strengths of the Award-Winning Polarion Application Lifecycle Management (ALM) capabilities with QMetry's Test Management Offerings

STUTTGART, GERMANY/SAN FRANCISCO, CA (PRWeb) - August 20, 2013 - Polarion Software , creators of the world's fastest enterprise scale web-based Application Lifecycle Management (ALM) solution, announced today a new strategic partnership with QMetry. The Polarion Software and QMetry alliance provides customers the ability to import User Stories into QMetry and to associate these with Test Cases - with the goal of providing full life cycle traceability and coverage information.

"Polarion Software is a leader in ALM and we're enthused to be working with them to address the needs of various stakeholders in the software development life cycle that are looking for best-of-breed solutions to work in tandem with each other," said Devang Mehta, Head of Marketing and Business Development QMetry.

"In response to the needs of our global customers who are seeking the best way to build quality products and take to market faster, the partnership between QMetry and Polarion Software is a natural fit for our test hub strategy, where Polarion ALM is the central platform that manages various project management activity and QMetry's harmonizes these with Test Management capabilities to provide a robust, Enterprise-scale Solution," said Regg Struyk, Polarion Product Manager.
